From the General Manager

MARK REID

The New Sand Bunker Project is now 100% Complete. This was a wonderful project for the Club and added over $650,000 of value to our Golf Course. More importantly, the wonderfully positive comments I have received from membership regarding the project is priceless. To top it off, the Jay Copeland Memorial Clock is now operational and we are completing the landscaping and final sod work. This amazing addition to the course and the improvements around the practice green has made this central area beautiful and welcoming. Personally, I take inspiration from the timeless message on the base of the clock. Time does march on and it is precious. We cherish every day and we never lose the fond memories of all of the amazing people that once enriched our lives but are no longer with us. I am humbled to be General Manager of such a fantastic, generous and caring Club membership. I thank each one of you and our Board of Directors for all the recent improvements and look forward to more to come.

HEAD GOLF PROFESSIONAL AND TOURNAMENTS

Bunkers have moved from the renovation stage to that maintenance stage. Now it is up to staff as well as the membership to share responsibility maintaining the bunkers. Our Superintendent and his staff will continue to experiment with different techniques to rake the bunkers so that they are in the best shape possible on a daily basis. As they determine what technique works best with our bunkers, those practices will be communicated to the membership so that golfers can rake the bunkers accordingly to offer the same quality surface to the groups that play behind them.

In the meantime, we ask that anytime you enter or exit a bunker please do so on the low side of the bunker (do not walk up or down the face of the bunker) and rake all footprints with the tine side of the rake down. After raking, please leave the rake outside of the bunker along the line of play near the entrance/exit of the lowest point.

Turf Tip

STEVE GRIESINGER,
GOLF COURSE SUPERINTENDENT

As I sit here typing this article on August 1, we just finished an awesome week of weather after that nice, long heat wave! Staff did a magnificent job keeping several semi-trucks of cool season sod alive, as well as the greens during that stretch. Looks like, the next few weeks, we'll be tasked again trying to keep everything alive during another heat wave!

Viridity is finished with the bunkers, but we have a few punch list items to address, just little things to clean up the project. In addition, the clock project has begun with the removal of approximately 10 feet of the green, shoring up the pond bank with riprap, and installing the foundation for the clock.

Number nine where the zoysia grass has continually died year after year due to winterkill from water freezing and thawing, and shade issues. We had some cool season sod left over, so decided to place it there. Yes, this narrows the fairway some, but this grass will have better chance to survive on a yearly basis. Thought it was worth a shot. We will mow this area at the intermediate height, so lower than the rough height.

Looking forward to Greens Aerification in September, See you on the course.
