MARK REID

Every Spring, our golf course begs for a little patience while it recovers from a long winter hibernation. This year, we have been on the cusp of Abnormally Dry and Moderate Drought for the better part of the 2023. You are also noticing construction area sod that is trying to adjust and grow after it was installed during last year's sand trap project. We have had some success, but not much, in getting this cool season grass growing after verti-cutting and seeding last fall. We have put down pre-emergent and weed control so these areas will not get much better until we verti-cut and seed this fall. It has been many years since the Club did a major repair. Most people don't remember the last one where greens were replaced and a new irrigation system was installed. It still took 3 years to get the new sod matured and looking good after mowing.

What we can do in the present moment is what we are already doing. We have hired Veridity to cut out damaged zoysia turf on Fairways 2, 9, 10...

Did you know...?

1. Golf Was Banned 3 Different Times in Scotland

Today, golf isn't known as a rebellious sport. But there was a time when it was. Golf was banned not only once but three times in Scotland between the years of 1457 and 1744. That's because the government believed it interfered with military training. In the early days of golf, players would golf publicly, such as on the streets or on business properties. This was seen as a nuisance. In addition, football (soccer) was also banned during this time.

2. The First Round of Women's Golf Was Played in 1811

Sports have a history of misogyny. Golf is no exception. That's why the first round of women's golf took four hundred years after the sport was created! This first round was played in Musselburgh, Scotland. In 1867, the first women's club was developed. From here, women's golf has an outstanding history.

3. There's a 12,500 to 1 Chance of Making a Hole-in-One

Oh, the hole-in-one. It's what all golfers strive to achieve. Are you struggling? Don't worry — you're not a bad player. The odds are against you. There's a 12,500 to 1 chance a typical golfer will make a hole-in-one. That's because the width of the hole is so small. Even professional golfers can go their whole career without making a hole-in-one!

4. Golf Balls Were Originally Made of Feathers and Leather

Imagine hitting a leather ball across a golf course! During the early days of golf, the balls were made out of leather wrapped in feathers. Manufacturers would wet the feathers and wrap them around the leather. This helped the feathers dry around the leather. This was a time-consuming process and, as you can imagine, didn't create the most reliable golf ball.

On May 1 the LOGC Maintenance team completed a pipe replacement on Hole No. 16, which had developed an unsightly erosion issue. With the new pipe installed, and once the dirt and sod is replaced, the risk of more erosion should disappear.
